

Neesa

Native American
(Contemporary gift from the Seneca Indian Language)

1. 2.

Nee - sa, nee - sa, nee - sa, nee - sa, nee - sa, nee - sa, nee - sa, nee - sa, nee - sa, gai - we - o, gai - we - o.

We learned this peaceful song from our director's next door neighbor who is very involved in Native American spirituality and rituals. The essence of the song's words are hard to translate, but we know that Neesa means "the winter moon in January", and Gaiweo means, in the broadest sense, "honoring the creator who is the creation" or "the good word".
